

BP Internet Security™

Advanced Protection.
Simple Solution.

Protect yourself online with professional Internet protection for your PC

BP Internet Security™ is an easy to use, advanced Internet security software product developed for home and small business computers. By leveraging the same cutting-edge technology used by major corporations, BP Internet Security™ offers advanced protection from criminals who would steal your credit card numbers or other financial information, from hackers who can use your PC for their own illegal purposes, and from advertisers who annoy you with spam and pop-up advertising. Thanks to Big Planet, this industry-leading technology has been packaged into one easy-to-use, comprehensive product unlike anything else available today.

EVALUATE your security risks with BP Security Analyzer™—a powerful diagnostic sales tool

Identifying the threats to a computer system is the first step to securing it—or to persuading customers to purchase. Find out what dangerous threats exist on your computer today with our diagnostic sales tool, BP Security Analyzer™. This tool identifies dangerous spyware, Trojan horses, and other Internet security threats within minutes on any personal computer. The BP Security Analyzer™ recommends the proper course of action to protect you.

ELIMINATE unwanted security threats with BP Internet Security™ software

Once the threats have been identified, the second step is to clean your system. BP Internet Security™ scans, eliminates, and blocks threatening spyware, annoying adware and cookies, and damaging worms and Trojan horses. BP Internet Security™ lets you feel safe online without the worry that someone is watching you or stealing your personal or financial information.

PROTECT your data and your identity with BP Internet Security™ software

The third step to securing your data is to set up a barrier around your personal computer that keeps intruders out and cleans up after damaging websites. That barrier is formed by your personal anti-spyware software and firewall. These are your more important lines of defense against attacks by hackers and can prevent future threats.

CONTROL the content on your computer with BP Internet Security™ software

Finally, create a sense of well being by controlling the Internet content that enters your home—and avoid dangerous websites that attempt to install spyware on your computer. BP Internet Security™ Web-filtering tools allow you to decide which types of websites may be viewed or downloaded onto your computer. Block specific website categories to ensure your family's Internet experiences are always safe.

Start protecting yourself and your family from unwanted content and Internet threats today with
